TO RESUME PLACE IN CONFERENCE

President Wilson Expected to go to Paris at Once Upon His Arrival at Brest Tonight.

WILL REACH THERE BY NOON

Objections to Imposing Volunteer System on Germany Seen in French Official Circles.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Mar. 13.—That President Wilson will make a public statement soon on the attitude of the American people toward the league of nations covenant, is the conviction of his advisors here.

Brest, Mar. 13.—The steamer George Washington is expected to complete its trans-atlantic voyage in this port tonight.

The president will leave at once for Paris, arriving shortly before noon tomorrow. It is believed he will immediately begin participation in the work of shaping the preliminary peace treaty.

According to the present program, the council will consider Germany's western boundary tomorrow. Little difficulty is foreseen in framing this clause of the treaty owing to the agreement for establishing the Rhenish provinces as an independent "buffer" state and making the Rhine an international waterway.

Paris, Mar. 13.—Within five years after the peace is signed Germany will be able to throw a fully officered army of several million into the field, providing the allies impose the volunteer system on that country, according to the belief expressed in French military and official circles today.

The French declare Germany would easily maneuver the system so as to permit only officer material to enter the standing army which

HOSPITAL NURSES WERE EXPECTED TODAY

Miss Hazel Bennett and Miss Ruth Dillon, Former Rushville Girls, Among the Number

TO LAND FROM THE AMERICAN

Nurses attached to Base Hospital No. 32 arrived in New York today, according to a dispatch.

Miss Hazel Bennett, formerly of this city, is thought to be with the nurses of Base Hospital No. 32, who were expected to reach New York today on the American, according to a message received by Lieut. Col. E. D. Clark of Indianapolis, former commander of the unit. Miss Bennett's name is mentioned in the list of those who sailed, though she was on detached duty before the armistice was signed, and after the war ended, was sent to Italy for a rest. Miss Ruth Dillon, a former Rushville girl who was born and reared here, is also believed to be among the nurses due to land today. Miss Mary Bowen, formerly of this county, who was recently decorated by the French government, was also with Base Hospital No. 32, but her name is not given with those expected today.

It is no certainty, it is said, when the enlisted men of the unit, as well as the remaining commissioned officers, will arrive from France. Several times relatives of persons with the base hospital have received word which indicated their early return, but no definite word to this effect has been received. Russell Kirkpatrick and Neff Ashworth of this county are among the enlisted men of this unit.

ESCAPES THRU COAL DOOR

Tom Worthington Gets Out of Jail Thanks to Broken Lock

Tom W. Worthington, who was taken to jail last night on a charge of public intoxication, made his escape during the night through a coal door on which the lock had been broken without the knowledge of the officials. It is presumed that the lock was damaged by George Zimmerman, an insane man who was confined in the jail recently and had a hobby for "fixing" locks. No trace of Worthington was found today, but the police felt that Worthington would cause no trouble after he recovered from the effects of the liquor he had been drinking.

COUNTY SHERIFF IS SUED FOR DAMAGES

Albert Curry, Who Has Gained Notoriety Trying to Sue County Officials, Files Action

FALSE IMPRISONMENT CHARGE

Albert Curry, who has gained notoriety before by attempting to sue county officials, today brought suit in the circuit court against Sheriff E. M. Jones, former Deputy Sheriff Will Spivey and the sheriff's bondsmen, ten influential men of the county, for $5,000 damages.

Curry alleges false imprisonment but fails to state when he was arrested. He declares that he was taken into custody by the former deputy sheriff without any warrant and that after he was placed in jail, he was informed he was accused of assault and battery with intent. The records of the circuit court do not show he was ever arrested on such a charge. Mr. Spivey recalls, however, that he once arrested Curry on a charge of trespass, preferred in an affidavit in mayor's court. Curry is said to have moved back into property from which he had been ejected by the court's order.

The ten bondsmen named are A. L. Gary, A. L. Winship and John W. Frazer of this city, Thomas K. Mull of Manilla, C. M. Phillips, A. B. Norris, R. P. Henley, R. H. Hill and J. A. Sipe of Carthage.

BERLIN DISPATCHES TODAY CONFLICTING

Wireless From Berlin Says War Minister Demanded Unconditional Surrender of Spartans.

REPORTED TO HAVE RESIGNED

(By United Press.)

London, Mar. 13.—Wireless dispatches received from Berlin today reported that War Minister Noske, replying to a request by the Spartans for armistice terms, said the only condition would be "unconditional surrender, including all arms."

Noske resigned Tuesday morning, it was reported in other dispatches received from Berlin this morning. General Von Loquis is said to have succeeded him.

Berlin, Mar. 13.—Fighting was continuing in Berlin over a front of more than 15 miles. The city commander announced that it was uncertain when the government can master the situation, owing to Spartan infiltration tactics. As fast as troops reconquer an area the insurgents spring up in another quarter. Two hundred and fifty Spartans, both women and men, were captured in the heart of the city, where they had gone to their secret headquarters to get money which was to be divided among the Spartan forces as wages.

PUPILS LEND "PEP" TO CHURCH SERVICE

Cheer and Sing When They Attend Revival Meeting at M. E. Church Wednesday Evening

THREE UNIT WITH THE CHURCH

Evangelist Miller in Sermon Shows Psychological Effect of the Mind Over Matter

The students of the Rushville high school took the spirit and "pep" of their school with them last evening when they were the guests of honor at the revival service at the St. Paul's M. E. church. The young people who crowded one section of the church made the walls ring with the verses of hymns that they were asked to sing and to their spirited yells "Rah, Rah, Miller, Miller, Miller," and "B-L-A-C-K, Black." At the close of the service, three of the young people united with the church.

During the song service, the Rev. and Mrs. Black sang an impressive duet. The selection was beautiful and their voices blended excellently in singing the number. This evening the service will begin at 7:30 and the evangelist will deliver another one of his stirring messages on "The Two Ends of a String." Last evening at 7:30, the entire church was crowded.

He took his text from John 5:40, "Ye will not come to me that ye might have life," preaching a splendid sermon.

He showed the psychological effect of mind over matter and back of this the power of the will over the mind and backed up this side of the question by Bible truths and life facts. He said in part: "Among the numerous God-given facilities to which the human family is heir, the will stands out the most prominent. It predominates and rules all the others. It's the turning wheel at the helm of every person's life. It's the self-regulating power of every individual, constituting his free, moral agency."

The other facilities must furnish the objects. The mental sensibilities declare what is painful or pleasurable; the conscience tells us what is good or evil; the reason proclaims what is true or false, but none of them can make the choice. This can only be done by the greater power known as 'the will.' It's very obvious it was the plan of our Creator to put this powerful weapon within us as a shield to protect us against the enemy's darts, but when used otherwise it becomes a dagger that pierces our own heart and sends us into the presence of God's tribunal a self-murderer. Why are you not a Christian? Not that you cannot, but only because you will not, and all the excuses you offer for not accepting Christ is but a vain effort to ease the struggling of an accusing conscience and the outcries of an outraged judgment which have been aroused to action by the will being set against the will of God and everything right and righteous."

He showed the folly of a man fighting against God and the tragic outcome of such an action. "God cannot save a man against his will," said the speaker. "Heaven and the Bible, Christ and Calvary, the Holy Ghost and eternity, all stand absolutely defeated before the citadel of human will."

In closing he said: "Tonight you will choose between God and the devil; tonight you will choose between time and eternity. Awful issues are at stake. On this winged hour eternity is hung. I know what your desires are, because we desire the best, but your will determines your choice."

The cottage prayer meetings Friday morning from nine-thirty to ten o'clock will be held in the following

TWO DAYS LEFT TO PAY INCOME TAX

Returns Must be in Internal Revenue Collector's Office by Saturday Night

THE MAILS SHOULD BE USED

Corporation Estimate Amount Due And Accompany Report With Remittance For One-Fourth.

Persons who have delayed filling out their federal income tax blanks have only two days left before the period for making the first payment closes. The first installment must accompany the return on the taxes, which must reach the internal revenue collector, Peter J. Krueger, in Indianapolis, by Saturday night.

The basis upon which the returns must be made is as follows:

1. An amount not less than 1/4 of the full amount of taxes; 2. an amount not less than 1/4 of the estimated amount of taxes; or 3. the full amount of the estimated amount of taxes.

This must be accompanied by a return showing the basis upon which the tax is computed. The completed returns, showing all items of income and deductions, should also accompany the first payment if this is possible. Taxpayers who require returns should make payments on estimated tax due and then attach a tentative return, requesting an extension of time for completing the permanent return.

Corporations are estimating the tax due and remitting one-fourth with Form 1031-T because regular corporation income and excess profits forms were not available in time. A dispatch from Washington says the forms have just been mailed to the internal revenue collectors and will be distributed among corporations within a week or ten days.

Some local people have made a practice of going to the office of the collector in the federal building in Indianapolis to make their returns, but it is urged that this not be done this year because of the heavy congestion in the office. The mail should be used, it is stated, and the remittance securely pinned to Form 1031-T. Both the original and duplicate copy of the tax form should be returned.

Additional rulings have been made regarding individual income taxes, clearing up some misunderstandings about exemption, as follows:

"If married and living with a wife or husband on the last day of the year, the exemption allowed is $2,000. Any taxpayer who though unmarried, supported in his household Dec. 31 one or more relatives who were dependent upon him may claim the $2,000 exemption."

"Single persons, also married persons who were living apart on Dec. 31 and who have no dependents, may claim only $1,000 exemption."

"Additional exemption of $200 is allowed for each person who was dependent upon the taxpayer Dec. 31, if the dependent is under 18 years of age or is mentally or physically incapable of self-support."

It is announced by the internal revenue office that the heavy penalties provided by the law for failure or refusal to observe the strict letter of the law, will be strictly enforced, in justice to the man who promptly and honestly meets his income tax obligations. Ignorance of the law cannot be offered consistently as an excuse.

Congress has certainly differentiated between the person who fails and the person who "willfully refuses" to file his return and pay his tax within the time limit prescribed by law. Offenders of the first class to a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment for one year, or both, together with the cost of prosecution.

DECORATORS ENGAGED FOR AUTOMOBILE SHOW

Kokomo Firm Will Arrange Interior of Building and Franklin Orchestra Will Play

AT LEAST 25 MODELS FOR SHOW

Approximately twenty-five 1919 models of automobile will be on display at the first automobile show ever held by local dealers, which will take place in the building formerly occupied by the Modern Appliance company in West Third street, next Thursday and Friday. The number of the models shown depend on the number of machines which can be displayed to advantage in the building. Plans have been made to use every inch of floor space.

The Kokomo Decorating company has been engaged to decorate the interior of the building. This company had a similar contract for the Anderson automobile show, where local dealers saw their work. A five-piece orchestra from Franklin will provide music for the show all day Thursday and Friday and Thursday night, as well as Friday night when the machines will be moved out of the building and a dance will be given. A platform will be erected in the middle of the floor for the orchestra.

One or more models of the following machines will be shown: Reo, Oldsmobile, Hupmobile, Franklin, Dodge, Studebaker, Chandler, Maxwell, Buick, Chevrolet, Ford, Nash, Dort, Grant, Overland, Willys-Knight, Oakland and Chalmers.

These two teams were considered the strongest scheduled to play. Richmond and Bloomington were to fight it out at the opening game of the tourney.

SEES EFFORT TO REPLACE TYNDAL

Clifford S. Lee, Former Rushville Man, Writes of Attempt to Oust Indiana Artillery Commander

LETTER TO SENATOR WATSON

Declares That Every American Soldier in France is Crazy to Get Back to His Old Home

The statement that an effort is being made to replace Colonel Robert M. Tyndall of the 150th Field Artillery, formerly the first Indiana, with a West Point regular army officer, is attributed to Clifford S. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lee of this city, who is now in France as a representative of the United States treasury.

A letter from Mr. Lee to Senator James E. Watson of this city, in which the statement is made, is the basis for a story from Washington printed in the Indianapolis News. Mr. Lee got his early newspaper experience on the Daily Republican and was on the Indianapolis Star for several years before going into other lines of work. His letters from France have been printed in the Indianapolis Star frequently since his arrival in France after the armistice was signed.

"To begin with," writes Mr. Lee to Senator Watson, "there is a well-organized and determined movement among the West Point regular officers over here, now come to a head after having been fomented at home for several years, to get the national guard. Colonel Tyndall is today one of only four national guard colonels left in the army of occupation, and they are out to get them as they have done the others."

"Life has been a living hell over here for the Indiana regiment from the beginning. Now while they have failed to get Tyndall ousted so far because of his record here, they have put a West Pointer in as lieutenant-colonel and have put in three West Point majors."

"Every effort has been made to trick Tyndall into doing something for which they could get him, but he has stood the gaff, fought them to a standstill and is still on top though he has not dared to leave his regiment or allow himself to get into a position where he might be outranked, even temporarily."

"This Indiana regiment has been through hell. I am getting together complete data on its activities and expect soon to go to Neuenahr, Germany, where it is stationed, and put it all into shape. If the state of Indiana ever had reason to be proud of a regiment it has of this one. I am surprised to learn that Colonel Tyndall is wearing the distinguished service order and the Croix de Guerre. He has three times been in command of an artillery brigade (usually commanded by a brigadier-general) in important battles, including regular troops. He had one horse shot from under him. His dugouts were twice demolished. Fifty horses were killed alone at one time in his regiment by a single shell and he and his men fought for many days and nights continuously without sleep, almost exhausted and so badly battered that they cared little whether they lived or died."

"They found one brave Indiana lad lying dead one morning after a raid up in the Argonne, but he had got five Germans before they killed him. Two Indiana boys were blown up by a shell and their bodies scattered so that nothing big enough to bury was found."

"The regiment demolished one town in forty minutes, so accurate was its fire. It participated in nearly every battle in which American troops were engaged and comes out of the war with an unimpeachable record. For proof of this you have only to consult Generals Summerall

GERMAN LANGUAGE ELIMINATED TODAY

Governor Signs Bill Which Prohibits Teaching it in High Schools of the State.

SIGNS PLATFORM MEASURES.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Mar. 13.—German subjects and the German language were eliminated from Indiana high schools today when Governor Goodrich signed the Van Auker senate bill providing for this. The bill prohibits the teaching of the German language and German subjects in the high schools of the state.

Three other measures, two of them planks of the republican state platform, also became laws with the governor's signature. The bills provide for appointment of a committee to look after social welfare and child labor and establishment of a state colony for the insane.

REASONS ARE GIVEN FOR BUYING NOW

EXPLAIN WHY FARMER SHOULD HAVE HIS TRACTOR IN THE FIELD.

A careful survey of the tractor industry emphasizes the importance of buying tractors now, when they will be of untold value to the farmer. The investigation made by a man prominent in the tractor trade shows that there cannot be any reduction in prices and that there is a decided likelihood of an increase in price. He thinks it is probable that the price may take a shoot upward soon.

These statements are supported by well-founded facts. Two things mainly control the price of a product—cost of labor and the supply of material. It is generally known that wages during the war were higher than any time in history. Man-power, needed so badly at the front, was at a premium in the factory and shop. Money was the least of consideration. And while higher wages are being paid than is considered equitable, it will take many months to bring about adjustment. High wages must be paid during the readjustment period.

The big problem, however, is the lack of material. The war program called for every square inch of steel, lumber, iron and all kinds of material. It produced an unusual scarcity, but all were glad to give. And now that the various industries are readjusting their own programs, they have sent out the S O S call for material. As a result material maintains its scarcity and high price.

These two factors affect the tractor industry and show why the farmer who has a farm of 75 or more acres should arrange to have his tractor delivered at once. The United States Department of Agriculture, Purdue University, and County Agents are urging the use of tractors and teaching their construction and operation. So with all this weight of evidence in favor of buying tractors now, it is expected that tractor dealers will be busy from now on.

Amusements

Fairbanks Here Tonight

Douglas Fairbanks is proving himself to be the "go get 'em" fellow. First, he announced that arrangements had been completed to film "Arizona." He followed this absolute surprise with the statement that the part of "Canby" was to be played by Theodore Roberts, the distinguished character actor, who created the same role in the original stage version in New York eighteen years ago. Those who know "Arizona" and Mr. Roberts will aver that no better selection could have been made.

Canby has a peculiar philosophy, applying to women, which he sums up in one of his speeches.

"Colonel Bonham, I have been in this ranch business a long time. I've broke a good many colts in my time. I've broke lots to go doubles, too, lots of 'em. When you first yoke 'em up, they just whip-saw this way and that way. They ain't never been layin' agin the tugs at the same time. Then I give 'em the gaff, an' after they've run themselves near to a standstill, I point 'em home. Sometimes I have to do it more than once, but eventually they pulls together, like the wheelers, in a band wagon. Humans is like horses, especially females."

James P. Hogan was appointed technical director by Douglas Fairbanks, and with the assistance of a special scene plot of "Arizona" supplied by Augustus Thomas, the author, an elaborate production was insured. It will be shown at the Princess theatre tonight and tomorrow. The photograph was in charge of Hugh Carlyle, McClung and Glen Williams, who jointly have photographed all the Fairbanks productions.

Actress In Dual Role.

Priscilla Dean will be shown at the Mystic theatre tonight in one of her best productions, "She Hires a Husband", in which she portrays a dual role.

Did you thrill over Priscilla Dean's sensational dual role in "The Two-Soul Woman?"

Were you astounded by her rare display of elaborate and daring gowns in "The Brazen Beauty?"

"She Hired a Husband," Priscilla Dean's newest Bluebird production is what might well be called a twentieth century version of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

Daphne has spent her inheritance and perversely opposes her aunt and uncle's wishes.

They decide to marry her off. It happens that Tom Dunstan, Daphne's relative was the victim of the rejection. He takes to the Canadian woods to care for his father's interests. On the eve of her wedding to a nobleman, Daphne contrarily makes her escape in her bridal garb and motors to a suburb, where she meets a bearded stranger to whom she proposes marriage: "In Name Only", she adds, as a precaution. And then—

To tell the chain of exciting events that follow would spoil enjoyment of "She Hired a Husband."

Tomorrow May Murray in "The Brides Awakening", Saturday Tom Mix in "Roman Cowboy" are the Mystic's offerings.

Last year the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania cared for nearly 3,000 children.

Economy as a Political Issue.

Government economy is always considered a timely and appropriate issue for candidates to dwell upon. It has won many elections. Politicians never look more honest, sincere, and straightforward than when they denounce their spendthrift opponents, and promise retrenchment. Some of our aspirants for office talk so much about economy, that they really believe what they say. But sometimes the economizers, on being elected, immediately proceed to vote for larger appropriations.

It is one thing to promise economy, and mean it too, in the jolly informality and enthusiasm of a political meeting. But quite another to fulfill the pledge after you get into office, and are up against customs, traditions, and the clamor of conflicting interests.

Your constituents probably expect you to get some favors for their district. But in spite of the splendid merits of these propositions you find other legislators singularly blind and indifferent to the same, unless you come across for their favorite projects. Then at once they see new light. But the total appropriation makes your economy promises look like the traditional thirty cents.

The candidate who pledges economy may not realize how badly public funds are needed for modern projects essential to community progress. It used to be easier to get millions to fight hog cholera, than a few thousands for protective work for children. The cholera appropriation was perfectly good. But our statesmen were slow to see how the nation was crippled by failure to protect children. They wasted so

"Garden Sass."

The national war garden commission reports that $525,000,000 worth of food was produced on back yard lots last year.

This means a reduction in the cost of food which the families cultivating these gardens would otherwise have purchased. Not only that, but the vegetables raised in these gardens came to the table fresher and of better quality than vegetables purchased at a market or store could possibly have done.

Many people who made gardens last year because the government requested it found pleasure enough in the garden work and profit enough in the results to encourage them in keeping up the garden habit.

We welcome the Back-yard Garden as a permanent national institution.

Exquisite spring days which will bring poetry into our lives are at hand. Look up the floor wax and the scrubbing brush and last year's fly-swatter.

NEW LAW FIXES SIZE OF A LOAF OF BREAD

Bakers Can no Longer Sell Loaves That Are Under Weight For Full Weight Loaves

MUST BE OF CERTAIN SIZE

A law has been passed by the legislature to govern the size of a baker's loaf of bread. The loaf must weigh three-quarters of a pound, a pound, a pound and a half or two pounds. The bill becomes effective on promulgation of the acts of 1919.

Bakers now sell bread by the loaf. Generally it is believed that the customer is to receive a pound loaf, but H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, says that nearly all the bakers now are selling short weight loaves. He says that instead of the bakers selling a full pound loaf, they are passing out fourteen ounce loaves—that is, saving two ounces on each loaf. The new law requires loaves of certain weight and requires them to be labeled with the weight and the name of the baker. It requires also certain sanitary conditions in bakeries not now required by the law. The law was designed to save for Hoosiers some of the benefits of federal food administration regulations regarding bread.

WINDOW LIGHTS ARE BROKEN

Mrs. Will Roth, living one mile east of Gowdy, was seriously injured Monday night when an incubator blew up. Mrs. Roth was attempting to regulate the temperature in her incubator, preparatory to placing the eggs in it. She struck a match to read the thermometer and an explosion immediately followed.

Her face and hands were badly burned and window lights in an adjoining room were broken by the force of the explosion. It is thought that gas formed in the incubator and the match ignited it. A physician was called immediately and the burns, which are of a very serious nature, were dressed. It was at first thought that her eyesight would be badly affected but such is not the case.

PREDICTS DANGER AHEAD IN FRANCE

Writers do Not Know Whether They Are Writing Last Page of History or a New One.

STATES A HAVANA EDITOR

The Cuban Writer Sees Grave Dangers in the Discussion of Commercial Freedom.

(By United Press.)

New York, Mar. 13.—"It must be confessed at this moment that we do not know whether we are writing another chapter in the history of the war, or its last page."

This view of the possibilities of the peace conference and of the international friction that may develop among the victorious powers is expressed by Oreste Ferrara, Cuban jurist and editor, in his new book, "Lessons of the War and the Peace Conference". Ferrara is professor of public law in the University of Havana, and editor of El Heraldo, a powerful Havana daily.

The Cuban writer sees grave dangers in discussions of commercial freedom that must arise at the conference. This question he describes as a "rock for the League of Nations to split upon."

"Although theoretically all are strongly in favor of the greatest commercial freedom, we fear that, if carried to an extreme point, there will be much division of mind upon this subject," says Ferrara. "The idea is evidently unfavorable in the United States—'Dollar Diplomacy' is not yet dead in the United States.—No attention has been paid by the (Republican) party to the vigorous and convincing speech of ex-President Taft."

The book was translated and prepared for its American editor by Leopold Grahame, the well known writer on international topics.

The crew of the Indo Maru, a Japanese ship in the U. S. service, were so impressed by a donation of Red Cross sweaters that the captain made an official report of the gift to the Imperial Navy Department, Tokyo, Japan.

Americans Concentrated Their Propaganda Upon the Shortage of Food in Germany

RATION LIST WAS SENT OVER

Balloons and Also the Airplanes Showered the Front Line With Pamphlets of Facts

By WEBB MILLER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the Third Army in the Rhineland, Feb. 20.—(By Mail).—Now that the need for secrecy has passed, it is possible to tell something about a little known branch of the American armies—the Field Propaganda Section.

Although its chief weapons were only brains, ink and paper the Field Propaganda Section undoubtedly edly saved many lives, brought in many prisoners and weakened the Germans' morale and shortened the war thereby.

It was decided to concentrate American propaganda upon three main points—the German shortage of food, the constantly increasing number of American soldiers landing in France, and the arguments in President Wilson's speeches.

The Field Section consisted of motor trucks and a balloon outfit, with fourteen men, under Lieutenant George Nicholas Ifft, Jr., of Pocatello, Idaho. Lieutenant Ifft had lived in Germany, spoke German and understood the Teutonic mind.

The Germans were circulating a story among their troops that the Americans killed their prisoners. This tale was designed to force the German machinegunners to fight to the last breath. Several hundreds of thousands of copies of General Pershing's general order relative to the humane handling of prisoners were printed in German. The aviators flung showers of the leaflets over the front lines. And the propaganda had almost immediate effect. Machine-gun crews surrendered and eagerly showed their captors copies of the order which they had picked up.

Then the propagandists began to hammer upon the two weak points of the Germans—the food shortage and the number of Americans in France. In keeping the Germans informed of the number of Americans landing, the field section used only the official figures from Washington. This is probably the first time in history that a belligerent was anxious for the enemy to know the number of troops he had. In deference to the German weakness for charts and tables, the figures were arranged to show the increase in the American army month by month.

After a few weeks of this bombardment, a leaflet with a series of "Questions for German Soldiers," was sent over. These questions were designed to start the Germans to thinking about what the flood of American soldiers meant to him.

On top of these appeals was piled another appeal in the shape of a list of the rations served to German prisoners. The various articles of food were enumerated with particular emphasis upon white bread, real coffee and tobacco and butter, and other foodstuffs unknown to the German ration. This proved to be one of the strongest arguments—the German stomach yielded easier than the German mind. At various points on the front deserts came into our lines with copies of the ration list in their hands.

After each of President Wilson's speeches and notes to Germany, hundreds of thousands of copies of translations were strewn over the German lines. Within two days after the speeches American airplanes were dropping copies over the lines. Following the collapse of Bulgaria, Austria and Turkey, the propaganda

After the St. Mihiel salient was wiped out the whole front was showered with leaflets showing a significant map of the salient before and after and the statement "Ground held four years by the Germans, taken within twenty-seven hours by the Americans" and a table showing the number of prisoners and guns taken. ## REGISTERED MAIL IS WAY TO GET RESULTS

Soldiers Will Have More Luck Making Applications for $60 Bonus in That Way

DISCHARGE PAPERS MUST GO

Discharged soldiers who have not yet made request of the government for the bonus of $60 due them, are urged to send their papers by registered mail if they expect to get quick action. Gordon Bennett, the first discharged soldier here to receive his bonus, made his request by registered mail and the bonus was received in five days. It is especially emphasized that original discharge papers must accompany the application.

Some soldiers have sent copies or have even sent photographs of their discharges, but it is declared that the war department will be satisfied with nothing less than the original discharge papers. Soldiers may have their discharge papers recorded at the county recorder's office, under the terms of a law passed by the last legislature, if they are afraid that they will be lost in the mails or at Washington. It is stated by state army officers, however, that if the papers are lost duplicates may be obtained of the war department.

INDIANS ARE PAYING THE CAPITOL A VISIT

The Red Man is in Washington Visiting his Great White Uncle at the White House.

DRESSED IN HIS TRIBAL BEST

(By United Press.)

Washington, Mar. 13.—The red man is in Washington, visiting the wigwam of his Great White Uncle.

He's all dressed up in his tribal best, even to beaded mocassins and blankets in the ancient mode. He fills the corridors of the Capitol, or stands immobile and keen eyed on Pennsylvania avenue while the pretty war workers pass and giggle at him.

He talks much and well, contrary to the universal notion. Before congressional committees, the Indian can be as fluent and convincing as any high priced lobbyist.

Most of the Indians speak English. Many of them are graduates of Carlisle Indian school. A few of them are millionaires. One or two in each delegation however clings to his native speech, which he utters mostly from the throat, with scarcely a movement of the lips, and few gestures. Then an interpreter is called in.

The Indians do not act like men of a conquered and dying race. There is no severity in their mien, and they are not slow to argue with the white man, when their interests are concerned.

In addition, it is feared that the two-year-plan of enlistment would encourage young men to make army life their profession.

SEES EFFORT TO REPLACE TYNDALL

and Douglas McArthur.
"Now the regiment is being motorized. It is equipped with French 155s. The officers and men do not want it motorized. The scheme is to motorize it and then put a West Point colonel in command, if possible, who will lead the regiment home. In this way, credit for what the regiment has done will go to West Point and the regular army.

"Colonel Tyndall is entitled to lead this regiment home and I beg of you to appraise Senator New and Governor Goodrich of the situation and all of you stand back of Bob Tyndall in this thing. The Rainbow division, the New England division, the Michigan-Wisconsin division (32nd) are all getting the same treatment."

In describing Colonel Tyndall, Mr. Lee said, he was surprised to find him looking ten years older with his hair turning "very gray."

Mr. Lee also had some comment to make in regard to conditions in Europe and sentiment in regard to the league of nations. His letter was written just before the president returned to the United States.

"Europe," he said, "and especially France and England, are not genuinely at heart for the proposed league of nations and few people here think anything will come of it. There is a terrible undercurrent of rumor and unrest and threatened breaks, every one at the conference demanding everything he thinks he can get. The thing is enveloped in clouds and so far had gotten nowhere.

"The general opinion here is that blunders are being made, and that we are chasing rainbows while Germany is profiting immeasurably.

"Every American is crazy to get home. When our men all get back and the American people find out the whole truth there is going to be an uproar that will be heard around the world, followed by a big political upheaval. Furthermore, our troops here are organizing into a potent political force in order to have something to say when they get home."

WHICH ROAD DO YOU TRAVEL?

Here Are the Signposts: End of One Will Find You "Broke,"
Other Happy and With Funds.

There are two roads in life. One leads to a quagmire of nothingness. The other leads to success. Both are lined with signposts to show the wary traveler in which direction he is moving. But many people go along, their eyes on the skies, on the ground, or unseeing in dreamland, never noticing that they are advancing on the wrong highway. Do you know which road you are traveling? Here are the signposts. The end of one will find you empty-handed. The end of the other will find you with funds for a sunny opportunity—with War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds working for you at over 4 per cent interest.

THRIFT SCHOOL PLAN OUTLINED BY EXPERT

Dr. Shailer Mathews Explains
Scope and Purpose of Great
U. S. Educational Movement for Saving.

By DR. SHAILER MATHEWS.

[Chairman of W. S. S. Educational Committee for Seventh District and Vice Director for Illinois.]

Thrift will be taught in the schools of the states constituting the Seventh federal reserve district.

The children of Iowa will help prepare the Little Lessons in Thrift which are being written by Prof. Macy Campbell of the Iowa State Teachers' college, under the general direction of an educational committee of the district.
Besides the chairman the educational committee consists of W. E. Larson, department of public instruction, Wisconsin; J. V. McNally, Detroit public schools, Michigan, and Macy Campbell, Iowa State Teachers' college.

The Little Lessons in Thrift appear fortnightly on printed sheets. The lessons are prepared for the different grades in the schools. They are illustrated and interesting. They teach savings as a phase of good citizenship, give problems of arithmetic in terms of thrift stamps, chewing gum, candy and other things a child buys.

It is a new field which is thus being opened up and the war savings organization is rendering a great service to the rising generation. Nor is it all mere theory. The teaching of the principles of thrift is combined with a sort of manual training in thrift, through the sale of War Savings Stamps in schools.

Along with these Little Lessons in Thrift the educational committee furnishes the schools with pupils' thrift cards, on which the teacher keeps an account of the amount, however small, which the pupil brings to her for the purpose of buying stamps. This practice itself becomes educational, because the pupil gets introduced to simple bookkeeping and banking.

These plans have received the heartiest co-operation of the school administration in the various states and cities. The parochial and private schools also are co-operating in the use of the material and plans prepared by the committee.

The young men and women of the next generation will have a higher respect for thrift and a better understanding as to how to spend their money, for they will learn even in the primary grades that thrift is not miser-liness but a way of spending money so as to make it for them.

Get the Merchants' Good Will, Manufacturers

Do not try to load up the retail storekeeper with goods that are not well advertised to the consumer, Mr. Manufacturer.

Do not try to make the retailer believe that people will demand your goods over his counter unless you are advertising these goods to the people of this city.

The great consumer medium of advertising is the daily newspaper.

And because it does reach everybody who buys,
it is also the ideal "dealer medium."

Goods advertised in the newspapers have the dealer's support because his customers know them and ask for them.

Peels Off Corns Between Toes

The Great Corn Loosener of the Age. Never Fails. Painless.

A corn mashed, squeezed and crushed, all day long, in between two toes! You can try the desperate, "treat 'em rough" way and try to die.

"Two Drops of 'Get-It'—That's All!" It out and fall. Or, you can try the sensible, peaceful, painless, easy way and use "Get-It." It's easy for "Get-It" to remove corns in hard-to-get-at places. It's a liquid—a wonderful painless formula—it has never been successfully imitated. It settles on the corn, and dries immediately. Instead of digging out the corn, you peel it out painlessly. There's no sticky plaster that doesn't stay "put," no salve that irritates or rubs off. You reach the corn easily with the little glass rod in the cork of every "Get-It" bottle. It does not hurt the true flesh. Try it, trot and smile! It's a blessing; never fails. "Get-It" is the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

FRENCH ARMY NOT HARSH TO GERMANS

There is no Friction Between the Germans and the French in Occupied Territory.

FRENCH LAWS ARE STRICT.

The More Respect the Germans Show for the Laws the Fewer are the Restrictions.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Mayence, Feb. 11. (By Mail).—There is no friction between the Germans and the French in the occupied enemy territory. This is the largest city the French army occupies, and, with the exception of a hard look or two, the Germans show no resentment here.

The French are strict, but they do not rub in the fact that they are conquerors. Swanking with them is unknown, while the more respect the Germans show for the law the fewer are the restrictions.

"It is like this," explained Devle, commandant at Kaiserslautern. "We early came to the conclusion that if we posted a notice containing prohibitions implicit obedience to the edict must be demanded. The Germans have been ruled by the iron hand so long that they regard as an exhibition of weakness any permission to sidestep a rule. Then, too, it was necessary to be strict, not only to protect the people and the army, but to convince the Germans that they are not allowing us to stay here merely on sufferance because they had decided not to wage war any longer, (as some of them believe) but that they really are a conquered people. If we are not strict and severe they regard us as soft. Our only thought, however, is to rule justly, and if inhabitants behave themselves their privileges are extended."

The major then gave some illustrations.

At the beginning of the French occupation all telephoning was prohibited, except for certain administration or industrial necessities, the reason being that the phone was a convenient way to communicate information. Recently, this ruling has been modified to authorize use of the telephone within limits of certain cities.

At the beginning of the occupation there was the strictest censorship over letters, which has been much liberalized. Then, too there have been changes in what the people regard as the most irksome of all regulations, the "ringing of the curfew" at 8 o'clock at night. In some places the French have added a couple of hours so that the populace can visit the opera, concerts, theatre and movies.

Strict censorship of the press continues and nothing can be published which reflects upon or criticizes the French army, government or any of the allies. Public meetings cannot be held without authorization from the commandant, the single exception being church services. No watch is kept on the clergy. French army officers and soldiers have considerably surprised the Germans by going to church, proving to them that they are not irreligious. In Kaiserslautern the townspeople are growing familiar with the spectacle of the cure's welcoming General Fayolle at the door of the church every Sunday morning.

German policemen continue to perform their duties under the new regime, costumes being the same, but wearing a brassard about the arm. An exception has been made of some of the higher police officials, however, who were found impregnated by Kaiserism. They were given the sac, by the French. German officials cannot sign decrees. If new regulations are necessary they must be approved by the French commandant, who issues them in his own name.

Rheumatic Agony Piteous and Painful Now Easily Ended

James H. Allen of Rochester, Once a Cripple, Now Strong and Robust, Gives Secret to Sufferers

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cursed rheumatism or have only occasional twinges. I know that Allenrhu, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints.

I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenrhu made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

I know because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenrhu and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease.

No matter how severe your case. I urge you to put your faith in the prescription that I took me years to perfect—a prescription that made a new man of me after doctors tried and failed.

Allenrhu is no lie. It gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

Through the columns of this newspaper, I authorize every druggist to return your money if Allenrhu doesn't rid you of rheumatism.—(Adv.)

Janesville Walking Plow

What Is Walking-Plow Satisfaction?

"THE handles must be just the right height and swing over far enough in the furrow to allow me to walk squarely between them.

"The plow must run reasonably well without too much draft either to the land or to the furrow.

"The hitch must be such as to allow the tugs to be reasonably long to give the plow plenty of freedom to find itself in the furrow at the depth I wish to plow.

All This You Get in Janesville S. & S.

"This freedom in the furrow allows the plow a certain amount of oscillation as it slices the furrow and takes the 'pinch' away from the cutting edge of the share. This lightens the draft and saves me time.

"The quality of the work must be regular and the furrow left in as uniform condition as the character of the soil will permit. This reduces the cost of working it down into a seed bed.

"The long, smooth, easy roll of the furrow over the perfect scouring share and moldboard, and the plow guided by a slight pressure of either hand now and then eases the day's labor for man and team and insures the best work."—A Personal Testimonial. It will do as well for you. Let us prove it.

No trouble is experienced with mayors of cities of less than 25,000 where the people elect these functionaries, but not so much can be said regarding burgomasters in the larger cities, as the French have often found them still playing the game of imperial politics.

Germans are paying close attention to the work of the French commissions working in conjunction with the army.

When the French came they announced they would continue existing functionaries and administration as far as possible, subject to the higher authority of the army commandant. The French brought in the commissions, which are composed of men learned in finance, industry, law, history and engineering. Each army of occupation has a commission, while there are commissions of lesser importance in many other places.

PHONE COMPANIES ARE MAKING BIG EFFORT

Want Public Service Commission to Authorize Installation and Removal Charges

GRANTED BY FEDERAL GOVT.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13.—Efforts are being made by telephone companies to procure authorization from the public service commission to make installation and removal charges such as were granted by the federal government. The federal ruling, however, has been held up by an injunction. Telephone company representatives probably will meet next week to determine what action may be taken to obtain such authorization.

Arrangements have yet been made by the companies in the state to refund to patrons the difference between the regularly authorized intrastate rate and the higher rates levied under orders issued by Postmaster-General Burleson, which were charged before the injunction was granted.

Telephone companies in Indiana have collected about $115,000 which will have to be refunded under the ruling, according to estimates of members of the commission. However, representatives of the companies ies contend that the injunction has not been made permanent yet and that an appeal may be taken if the final decision of the court is unfavorable. For this reason, they contend, making refunds now might result in great confusion.

PROMINENT DOCTORS EXCITED AND AMAZED

They Are Worked Up Over The Action of Phosphated Iron Making The Weak Strong

Victims of weak nerves and run down systems due to lack of pure blood will be glad to know that there is, according to the best physicians a reliable remedy for them.

Many who were steadily going down hill to permanent illness and nervous breakdown have regained perfect health by taking Phosphated Iron, the new blood and nerve food.

One elderly woman said, "I was all in, looked and felt like the last run of shad, was clear discouraged without ambition or appetite. Now look at me. I have the good health and bubbling spirits of a girl of eighteen, eat and sleep well. It made a new man of my husband too. And though we are well along in years we both face the future with confidence, knowing that as long as our blood is charged with good health-giving Iron and Phosphates we are safe."

Again a bookkeeper who used it says: "If ever a man had a case of nerves it was me. I could not sleep at night, the least sound made me jump, appetite gone, everything was up hill work and I felt myself slipping every day. My doctor said: 'Try Phosphated Iron. It is the exact remedy you require.' The first week I improved; my nerves steadied down so that I slept, my appetite and digestion improved, and it seemed to me that I could almost feel the Phosphates and Iron feeding my weak watery blood and tired nerves. I now weigh 25 lbs. more than I ever did, and much stronger."

A prominent physician to whom the above statements were submitted said: "Yes, Phosphated Iron is easily the most wonderful Iron prescription yet discovered. Its ingredients are well known to all blood and nerve specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice and cured many patients where other physicians had failed. I can highly recommend it for all cases of weak nerves and poor blood, as well as general loss of tone, with absence of appetite. It seldom fails me in this class of cases."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

FRENCH CHILDREN DO LOVE AMERICA

Little Tots of France are Taught That America is the Saviour of Their Homes.

REASON FOR RECEPTION.

Extended to the President While he Journeys Through the French Towns and Cities.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 18. (By Mail.)—What were the reasons for the enthusiastic reception of President Wilson at Paris?

This was the subject of compositions in practically every school in France after the American President's arrival here. Here is a typical development of the theme, written by little Charlotte Girod, aged 10, of l'Institute l'Hammond in the shadow of the Sorbonne:

"Paris prepared the enthusiastic celebration of President Wilson's arrival because he came to our aid, and caused to be raised an army of 3,000,000 men who saved France and the world. The Americans are brave soldiers who let nothing discourage them. Parisian prove their gratitude for what America had done by receiving President Wilson with acclaim."

Here is what Phyllis Jacqueline, aged 8 wrote:

"Paris feted President Wilson because he came to the aid of France at the moment the Germans were attacking the hardest. And make the Germans didn't feel themselves ill at ease then! But the Americans and the French did not occupy their time thinking about that. Not at all! And the wicked Germans died—and died—and died!"

"And that's why little French children love President Wilson lots and lots—and America—and her armies."

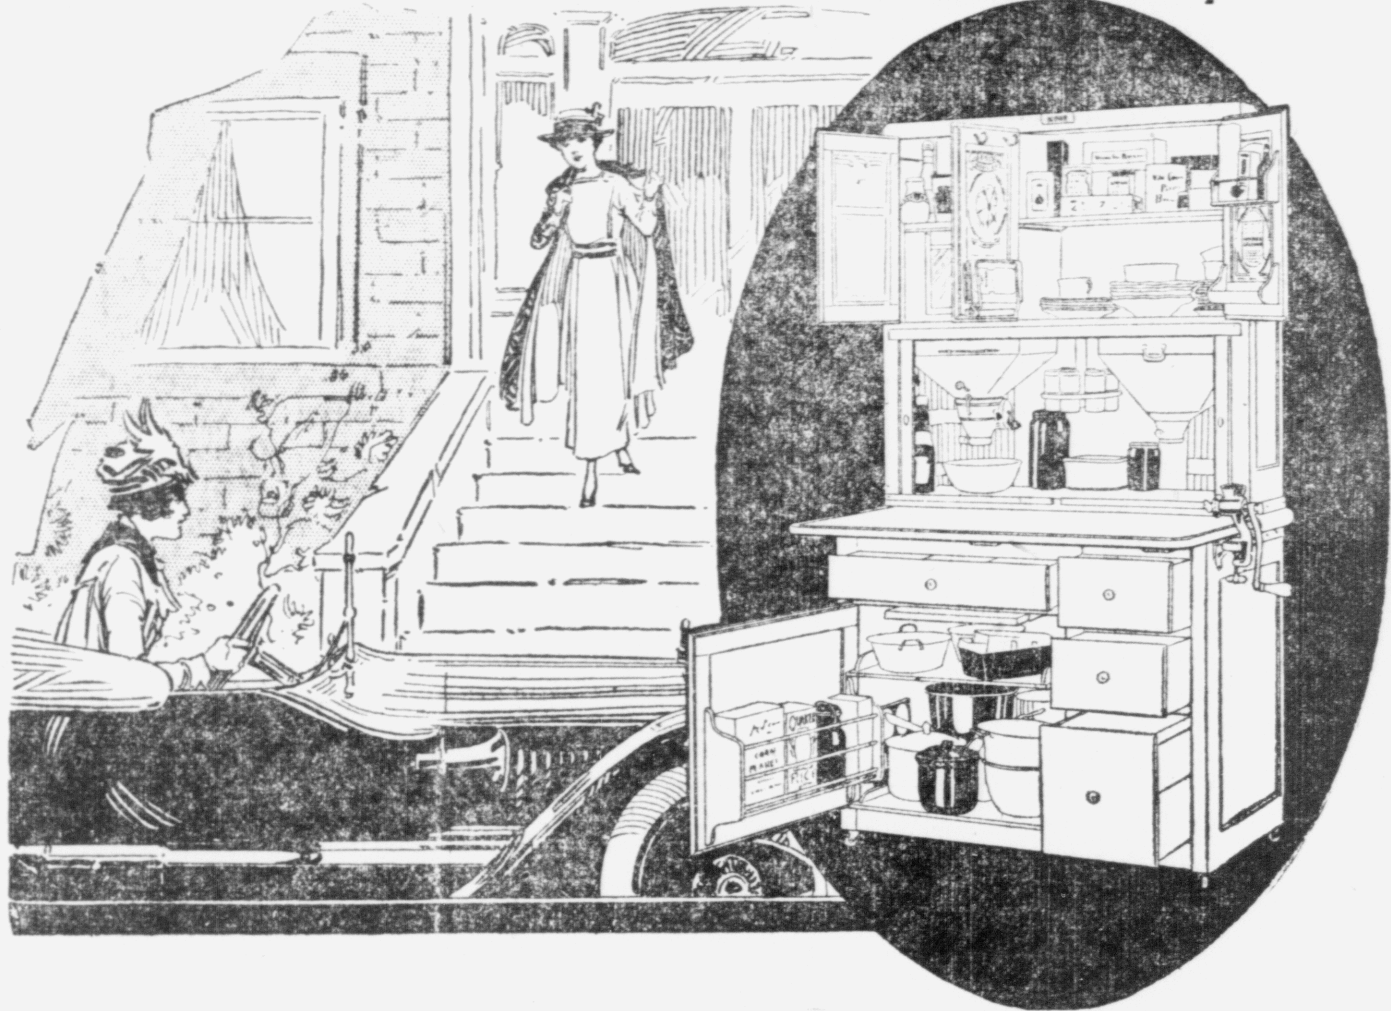

Thus are the French teaching gratitude towards America.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL, Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale. The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL, Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

TO RESUME PLACE IN CONFERENCE

President Wilson Expected to go to Paris at Once Upon His Arrival at Brest Tonight.

Objections to Imposing Volunteer System on Germany Seen in French Official Circles.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Mar. 13.—That President Wilson will make a public statement soon on the attitude of the American people toward the league of nations covenant, is the conviction of his advisors here.

Brest, Mar. 13.—The steamer George Washington is expected to complete its trans-atlantic voyage in this port tonight.

The president will leave at once for Paris, arriving shortly before noon tomorrow. It is believed he will immediately begin participation in the work of shaping the preliminary peace treaty.

According to the present program, the council will consider Germany's western boundary tomorrow. Little difficulty is foreseen in framing this clause of the treaty owing to the agreement for establishing the Rhinish provinces as an independent "buffer" state and making the Rhine an international waterway.

Paris, Mar. 13.—Within five years after the peace is signed Germany will be able to throw a fully officered army of several million into the field, providing the allies impose the volunteer system on that country, according to the belief expressed in French military and official circles today.

The French declare Germany would easily maneuver the system so as to permit only officer material to enter the standing army which

ESCAPES THRU COAL DOOR

Tom Worthington Gets Out of Jail Thanks to Broken Lock

Tom W. Worthington, who was taken to jail last night on a charge of public intoxication, made his escape during the night through a coal door on which the lock had been broken without the knowledge of the officials. It is presumed that the lock was damaged by George Zimmerman, an insane man who was confined in the jail recently and had a hobby for "fixing" locks. No trace of Worthington was found today, but the police felt that Worthington would cause no trouble after he recovered from the effects of the liquor he had been drinking.

COUNTY SHERIFF IS SUED FOR DAMAGES

Albert Curry, Who Has Gained Notoriety Trying to Sue County Officials, Files Action.

FALSE IMPRISONMENT CHARGE

Albert Curry, who has gained notoriety before by attempting to sue county officials, today brought suit in the circuit court against Sheriff E. M. Jones, Former Deputy Sheriff Will Spivey and the sheriff's bondsmen, ten influential men of the county, for $5,000 damages.

Curry alleges false imprisonment but fails to state when he was arrested. He declares that he was taken into custody by the former deputy sheriff without any warrant and that after he was placed in jail, he was informed he was accused of assault and battery with intent. The records of the circuit court do not show he was ever arrested on such a charge. Mr. Spivey recalls, however, that he once arrested Curry on a charge of trespass, preferred in an affidavit in mayor's court. Curry is said to have moved back into property from which he had been ejected by the court's order.

The ten bondsmen named are A. L. Gary, A. L. Winship and John W. Frazer of this city, Thomas K. Mull of Manilla, C. M. Phillips, A. B. Norris, R. P. Henley, R. H. Hill and J. A. Sipe of Carlisle.

BERLIN DISPATCHES TODAY CONFLICTING

Wireless From Berlin Says War Minister Demanded Unconditional Surrender of Spartans.

REPORTED TO HAVE RESIGNED

(By United Press.)

London, Mar. 13.—Wireless dispatches received from Berlin today reported that War Minister Noske, replying to a request by the Spartans for armistice terms, said the only condition would be "unconditional surrender, including all arms."

Noske resigned Tuesday morning, it was reported in other dispatches received from Berlin this morning. General Von Loquis is said to have succeeded him.

Berlin, Mar. 13.—Fighting was continuing in Berlin over a front of more than 15 miles. The city commander announced that it was uncertain when the government can master the situation, owing to Spartacan infiltration tactics. As fast as troops reconquer an area the insurgents spring up in another quarter. Two hundred and fifty Spartacans, both women and men, were captured in the heart of the city, where they had gone to their secret headquarters to get money which was to be divided among the Spartacan forces as wages.

PUPILS LEND "PEP" TO CHURCH SERVICE

Cheer and Sing When They Attend Revival Meeting at M. E. Church Wednesday Evening

THREE UNIT WITH THE CHURCH

Evangelist Miller in Sermon Shows Psychological Effect of the Mind Over Matter

The students of the Rushville high school took the spirit and "pep" of their school with them last evening when they were the guests of honor at the revival service at the St. Paul's M. E. church. The young people who crowded one section of the church made the walls ring with the verses of hymns that they were asked to sing and to their spirited yells "Rah, Rah, Rah, Miller, Miller, Miller," and "B-I-A-C-K, Black." At the close of the service, three of the young people united with the church.

During the song service, the Rev. and Mrs. Black sang an impressive duet. The selection was beautiful and their voices blended excellently in singing the number. This evening the service will begin at 7:30 and the evangelist will deliver another one of his stirring messages on "The Two Ends of a String." Last evening by 7:30, the entire church was crowded.

He took his text from John 5:40, "Ye will not come to me that ye might have life," preaching a splendid sermon.

He showed the psychological effect of this power of the will over the mind and backed up this side of the question by Bible truths and life facts. He said in part: "Among the numerous God-given faculties to which the human family is heir, the will stands out the most prominent. It predominates and rules all the others. It's the turning wheel at the helm of every person's life. It's the self-regulating power of every individual, constituting his free moral agency."

The other faculties must furnish the objects. The mental sensibilities declare what is painful or pleasurable; the conscience tells us what is good or evil; the reason proclaims what is true or false, but none of them can make the choice. This can only be done by the greater power known as 'the will.' It's very obvious it was the plan of our Creator to put this powerful weapon within us as a shield to protect us against the enemy's darts, but when used otherwise it becomes a dagger that pierces our own heart and sends us into the presence of God's tribunal a self-murderer. Why are you not a Christian? Not that you cannot, but only because you will not, and all the excuses you offer for not accepting Christ is but a vain effort to ease the struggling of an accusing conscience and the outcries of an outraged judgment which have been aroused to action by the will being set against the will of God and everything right and righteous."

He showed the folly of a man fighting against God and the tragic outcome of such an action. "God cannot save a man against his will," said the speaker. "Heaven and the Bible, Christ and Calvary, the Holy Ghost and eternity, all stand absolutely defeated before the citadel of human will."

In closing he said: "Tonight you will choose between God and the devil; tonight you will choose between time and eternity. Awful issues are at stake. On this winged hour eternity is hung. I know what your desires are because we desire the best, but your will determines your choice."

The cottage prayer meetings Friday morning from nine-thirty to ten o'clock will be held in the following

TWO DAYS LEFT TO PAY INCOME TAX

Returns Must be in Internal Revenue Collector's Office by Saturday Night

THE MAILED SHOULD BE USED

Corporation Estimate Amount Due And Accompany Report With Remittance For One-Fourth.

Persons who have delayed filling out their federal income tax blanks have only two days left before the period for making the first payment closes. The first installment must accompany the return on the taxes, which must reach the internal revenue collector, Peter J. Krayer, in Indianapolis, by Saturday night.

The basis upon which the returns must be made is as follows:

1, An amount not less than 1/4 of the full amount of taxes; 2, an amount not less than 1/4 of the estimated amount of taxes; or 3, the full amount of the estimated amount of taxes.

This must be accompanied by a return showing the basis upon which the tax is computed. The completed returns, showing all items of income and deductions, should also accompany the first payment if this is possible. Taxpayers who require returns should make payments on estimated tax due and then attach a tentative return, requesting an extension of time for completing the permanent return.

Corporations are estimating the tax due and remitting one-fourth with Form 1031-T because regular corporation income and excess profits forms were not available in time. A dispatch from Washington says the forms have just been mailed to the internal revenue collectors and will be distributed among corporations within a week or ten days.

Some local people have made a practice of going to the office of the collector in the federal building in Indianapolis to make their returns, but it is urged that this not be done this year because of the heavy congestion in the office. The mail should be used, it is stated, and the remittance securely pinned to Form 1031-T. Both the original and duplicate copy of the tax form should be returned.

Additional rulings have been made regarding individual income taxes, clearing up some misunderstandings about exemption, as follows:

"If married and living with a wife or husband on the last day of the year, the exemption allowed is $2,000. Any taxpayer who though unmarried, supported in his household Dec. 31 one or more relatives who were dependent upon him may claim the $2,000 exemption."

"Single persons, also married persons who were living apart on Dec. 31 and who have no dependents, may claim only $1,000 exemption."

"Additional exemption of $200 is allowed for each person who was dependent upon the taxpayer Dec. 31, if the dependent is under 18 years of age or is mentally or physically incapable of self-support."

It is announced by the internal revenue office that the heavy penalties provided by the law for failure or refusal to observe the strict letter of the law, will be strictly enforced, in justice to the man who promptly and honestly meets his income tax obligations. Ignorance of the law cannot be offered consistently as an excuse.

Congress has certainly differentiated between the person who fails and the person who "willfully refuses" to file his return and pay his tax within the time limit prescribed by law. Offenders of the first class to a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment for one year, or both, together with the cost of prosecution.

Kokomo Firm Will Arrange Interior of Building and Franklin Orchestra Will Play

Approximately twenty-five 1919 models of automobile will be on display at the first automobile show ever held by local dealers, which will take place in the building formerly occupied by the Modern Appliance company in West Third street, next Thursday and Friday. The number of the models shown depend on the number of machines which can be displayed to advantage in the building. Plans have been made to use every inch of floor space.

The Kokomo Decorating company has been engaged to decorate the interior of the building. This company had a similar contract for the Anderson automobile show, where local dealers saw their work. A five-piece orchestra from Franklin will provide music for the show all day Thursday and Friday and Thursday night, as well as Friday night when the machines will be moved out of the building and a dance will be given. A platform will be erected in the middle of the floor for the orchestra.

One or more models of the following machines will be shown: Reo, Oldsmobile, Hupmobile, Franklin, Dodge, Studebaker, Chandler, Maxwell, Buick, Chevrolet, Ford, Nash, Dorr, Grant, Overland, Willys-Knight, Oakland and Chalmers.

SEES EFFORT TO REPLACE TYNDAL

Clifford S. Lee, Former Rushville Man, Writes of Attempt to Oust Indiana Artillery Commander

LETTER TO SENATOR WATSON

Declares That Every American Soldier in France is Crazy to Get Back to His Old Home

The statement that an effort is being made to replace Colonel Robert M. Tyndall of the 150th Field Artillery, formerly the first Indiana, with a West Point regular army officer, is attributed to Clifford S. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lee of this city, who is now in France as a representative of the United States treasury.

A letter from Mr. Lee to Senator James E. Watson of this city, in which the statement is made, is the basis for a story from Washington printed in the Indianapolis News. Mr. Lee got his early newspaper experience on the Daily Republican and was on the Indianapolis Star for several years before going into other lines of work. His letters from France have been printed in the Indianapolis Star frequently since his arrival in France after the armistice was signed.

"To begin with," writes Mr. Lee to Senator Watson, "there is a well-organized and determined movement among the West Point regular officers over here, now come to a head after having been fomented at home for several years, to get the national guard. Colonel Tyndall is today one of only four national guard colonels left in the army of occupation, and they are out to get them as they have done the others."

"Life has been a living hell over here for the Indiana regiment from the beginning. Now while they have failed to get Tyndall ousted so far because of his record here, they have put a West Pointer in as lieutenant-colonel and have put in three West Point majors."

"Every effort has been made to trick Tyndall into doing something for which they could get him, but he has stood the gaff, fought them to a standstill and is still on top though he has not dared to leave his regiment or allow himself to get into a position where he might be outranked, even temporarily."

"This Indiana regiment has been through hell. I am getting together complete data on its activities and expect soon to go to Neuenehr, Germany, where it is stationed, and put it all into shape. If the state of Indiana ever had reason to be proud of a regiment it has of this one. I am surprised to learn that Colonel Tyndall is wearing the distinguished service order and the Croix de Guerre. He has three times been in command of an artillery brigade (usually commanded by a brigadier-general) in important battles, including regular troops. He had one horse shot from under him. His dugouts were twice demolished. Fifty horses were killed alone at one time in his regiment by a single shell and he and his men fought for many days and nights continuously without sleep, almost exhausted and so badly battered that they cared little whether they lived or died."

"They found one brave Indiana lad lying dead one morning after a raid up in the Argonne, but he had got five Germans before they killed him. Two Indiana boys were blown up by a shell and their bodies scattered so that nothing big enough to bury was found."

"The regiment demolished one town in forty minutes, so accurate was its fire. It participated in nearly every battle in which American troops were engaged and comes out of the war with an unimpeachable record. For proof of this you have only to consult General Summerall."

REASONS ARE GIVEN FOR BUYING NOW

EXPLAIN WHY FARMER SHOULD HAVE HIS TRACTOR IN THE FIELD.

A careful survey of the tractor industry emphasizes the importance of buying tractors now, when they will be of untold value to the farmer. The investigation made by a man prominent in the tractor trade shows that there cannot be any reduction in prices and that there is a decided likelihood of an increase in price. He thinks it is probable that the price may take a shoot upward soon.

These statements are supported by well-founded facts. Two things mainly control the price of a product—cost of labor and the supply of material. It is generally known that wages during the war were higher than any time in history. Man-power, needed so badly at the front, was at a premium in the factory and shop. Money was the least of consideration. And while higher wages are being paid than is considered equitable, it will take many months to bring about adjustment. High wages must be paid during the readjustment period.

The big problem, however, is the lack of material. The war program called for every square inch of steel, lumber, iron and all kinds of material. It produced an unusual scarcity, but all were glad to give. And now that the various industries are readjusting their own programs, they have sent out the S O S call for material. As a result material maintains its scarcity and high price.

These two factors affect the tractor industry and show why the farmer who has a farm of 75 or more acres should arrange to have his tractor delivered at once. The United States Department of Agriculture, Purdue University, and County Agents are urging the use of tractors and teaching their construction and operation. So, with all this weight of evidence in favor of buying tractors now, it is expected that tractor dealers will be busy from now on.

Amusements

Fairbanks Here Tonight

Douglas Fairbanks is proving himself to be the "go get 'em" fellow. First, he announced that arrangements had been completed to film "Arizona." He followed this absolute surprise with the statement that the part of "Canby" was to be played by Theodore Roberts, the distinguished character actor, who created the same role in the original stage version in New York eighteen years ago. Those who know "Arizona" and Mr. Roberts will aver that no better selection could have been made.

Canby has a peculiar philosophy, applying to women, which he sums up in one of his speeches. "Colonel Bonham, I have been in

James P. Hogan was appointed technical director by Douglas Fairbanks, and with the assistance of a special scene plot of "Arizona" supplied by Augustus Thomas, the author, an elaborate production was insured. It will be shown at the Princess theatre tonight and tomorrow. The photograph was in charge of Hugh Carlyle, McClung and Glen Williams, who jointly have photographed all the Fairbanks productions.

Actress In Dual Role.

Priscilla Dean will be shown at the Mystic theatre tonight in one of her best productions, "She Hires a Husband", in which she portrays a dual role.

Did you thrill over Priscilla Dean's sensational dual role in "The Two-Soul Woman?"

Were you astounded by her rare display of elaborate and daring gowns in "The Brazen Beauty?"

"She Hired a Husband," Priscilla Dean's newest Bluebird production is what might well be called a twentieth century version of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew".

Daphne has spent her inheritance and perversely opposes her aunt and uncle's wishes.

They decide to marry her off. It happens that Tom Dunstan, Daphne's relative was the victim of the rejection. He takes to the Canadian woods to care for his father's interests. On the eve of her wedding to a nobleman, Daphne contrarily makes her escape in her bridal garb and motors to a suburb, where she meets a bearded stranger to whom she proposes marriage: "In Name Only", she adds, as a precaution. And then—

To tell the chain of exciting events that follow would spoil enjoyment of "She Hired a Husband".

Tomorrow May Murray in "The Brides' Awakening", Saturday Tom Mix in "Roman Cowboy" are the Mystic's offerings.

Last year the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania cared for nearly 3,000 children.

Economy as a Political Issue.

Government economy is always considered a timely and appropriate issue for candidates to dwell upon. It has won many elections. Politicians never look more honest, sincere, and straightforward than when they denounce their spendthrift opponents, and promise retrenchment. Some of our aspirants for office talk so much about economy, that they really believe what they say. But sometimes the economizers, on being elected, immediately proceed to vote for larger appropriations.

It is one thing to promise economy, and mean it too; in the jolly informality and enthusiasm of a political meeting. But quite another to fulfill the pledge after you get into office, and are up against customs, traditions, and the clamor of conflicting interests.

Your constituents probably expect you to get some favors for their district. But in spite of the splendid merits of these propositions, you find other legislators singularly blind and indifferent to the same, unless you come across for their favorite projects. Then at once they see new light. But the total appropriation makes your economy promises look like the traditional thirty cents.

The candidate who pledges economy may not realize how badly public funds are needed for modern projects essential to community progress. It used to be easier to get millions to fight hog cholera, than a few thousands for protective work for children. The cholera, appropriation was perfectly good. But our statesmen were slow to see how the nation was crippled by failure to protect children. They wasted so

"Garden Sass."

The national war garden commission reports that $525,000,000 worth of food was produced on back yard lots last year.

This means a reduction in the cost of food which the families cultivating these gardens would otherwise have purchased. Not only that, but the vegetables raised in these gardens came to the table fresher and of better quality than vegetables purchased at a market or store could possibly have done.

Many people who made gardens last year because the government requested it found pleasure enough in the garden work and profit enough in the results to encourage them in keeping up the garden habit.

We welcome the Back-yard Garden as a permanent national institution.

Exquisite spring days which will bring poetry into our lives are at hand. Look up the floor wax and the scrubbing brush and last year's fly-swatter.

NEW LAW FIXES SIZE OF A LOAF OF BREAD

Bakers Can no Longer Sell Loaves That Are Under Weight For Full Weight Loaves

MUST BE OF CERTAIN SIZE

A law has been passed by the legislature to govern the size of a baker's loaf of bread. The loaf must weigh three-quarters of a pound, a pound, a pound and a half or two pounds. The bill becomes effective on promulgation of the acts of 1919.

Bakers now sell bread by the loaf. Generally it is believed that the customer is to receive a pound loaf, but H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, says that nearly all the bakers now are selling short weight loaves. He says that instead of the bakers selling a full pound loaf, they are passing out fourteen ounce loaves—that is, saving two ounces on each loaf. The new law requires loaves of certain weight and requires them to be labeled with the weight and the name of the baker. It requires also certain sanitary conditions in bakeries not now required by the law. The law was designed to save for Hoosiers some of the benefits of federal food administration regulations regarding bread.

INCUBATOR EXPLODES INJURING A WOMAN

Mrs. Will Roth, Living East of Gowdy, Suffers Serious Burns When Gas Is Ignited

WINDOW LIGHTS ARE BROKEN

Mrs. Will Roth, living one mile east of Gowdy, was seriously injured Monday night when an incubator blew up. Mrs. Roth was attempting to regulate the temperature in her incubator, preparatory to placing the eggs in it. She struck a match to read the thermometer and an explosion immediately followed.

Her face and hands were badly burned and window lights in an adjoining room were broken by the force of the explosion. It is thought that gas formed in the incubator and the match ignited it. A physician was called immediately and the burns, which are of a very serious nature, were dressed. It was at first thought that her eyesight would be badly affected but such is not the case.

PREDICTS DANGER AHEAD IN FRANCE

Writers do Not Know Whether They Are Writing Last Page of History or a New One.

STATES A HAVANA EDITOR

The Cuban Writer Sees Grave Dangers in the Discussion of Commercial Freedom.

(By United Press.)

New York, Mar. 13.—"It must be confessed at this moment that we do not know whether we are writing another chapter in the history of the war, or its last page."

This view of the possibilities of the peace conference and of the international friction that may develop among the victorious powers is expressed by Oreste Ferrara, Cuban jurist and editor, in his new book, "Lessons of the War and the Peace Conference". Ferrara is professor of public law in the University of Havana, and editor of El Heraldo, a powerful Havana daily.

The Cuban writer sees grave dangers in discussions of commercial freedom that must arise at the conference. This question he describes as a "rock for the League of Nations to split upon."

"Although theoretically all are strongly in favor of the greatest commercial freedom, we fear that, if carried to an extreme point, there will be much division of mind upon this subject," says Ferrara. "The idea is evidently unfavorable in the United States—'Dollar Diplomacy' is not yet dead in the United States.—No attention has been paid by the (Republican) party to the vigorous and convincing speech of ex-President Taft."

The book was translated and prepared for its American editor by Leopold Grahame, the well known writer on international topics.

The crew of the Indo Maru, a Japanese ship in the U. S. service, were so impressed by a donation of Red Cross sweaters that the captain made an official report of the gift to the Imperial Navy Department. To the Japanese.

would be in reality only an officers training school yielding after four or five years men enough to command an army of 10,000,000. France cannot forget that there are several million comparative youngsters in Germany who can already be regarded as veterans.

In addition, it is feared that the two-year plan of enlistment would encourage young men to make army life their profession.

SEES EFFORT TO REPLACE TYNDALL

and Douglas McArthur.

"Now the regiment is being motorized. It is equipped with French 155s. The officers and men do not want it motorized. The scheme is to motorize it and then put a West Point colonel in command, if possible, who will lead the regiment home. In this way, credit for what the regiment has done will go to West Point and the regular army."

Colonel Tyndall is entitled to lead this regiment home and he expects you to appraise Senator New and Governor Goodrich of the situation and all of you stand back of Bob Tyndall in this thing. The Rainbow division, the New England division, the Michigan-Wisconsin division (32nd) are all getting the same treatment."

In describing Colonel Tyndall, Mr. Lee said, he was surprised to find him looking ten years older with his hair turning "very gray."

Mr. Lee also had some comment to make in regard to conditions in Europe and sentiment in regard to the league of nations. His letter was written just before the president returned to the United States.

"Europe," he said, "and especially France and England, are not genuinely at heart for the proposed league of nations and few people here think anything will come of it. There is a terrible undercurrent of rumor and unrest and threatened breaks, every one at the conference demanding everything he thinks he can get. The thing is enveloped in clouds and so far had gotten nowhere.

"The general opinion here is that blunders are being made, and that we are chasing rainbows while Germany is profiting immeasurably.

"Every American is crazy to get home. When our men all get back and the American people find out the whole truth there is going to be an uproar that will be heard around the world, followed by a big political upheaval. Furthermore, our troops here are organizing into a potent political force in order to have something to say when they get home."

ENTERTAINS WAR WORN DOUGHBOYS

Baroness Extends Hospitality of the Old South.

ONE OF TENNESSEE FOLKS

Relative of President Polk Opens Chateau in France to Men From the United States—Baroness de Charette So Pleased at Visit of 150 Boys From Her Native State That She Kisses Every One of Them.

Southern hospitality in French chateaus? Certainly! Hoh-nalled shoes are wearing the polish off the beautiful hardwood floors of Basse Motte, the chateau of Baroness de Charette in Brittany, for every Friday from 100 to 200 soldiers of the American army are entertained under that hospitable roof in typical "down South" fashion. The baroness before her marriage was Miss Antoinette Polk of Nashville, Tenn., a relative of President Polk, a niece of Gen. Leonidas Polk, an Episcopal bishop, who was killed in action, and a beauty and belle of ante-bellum days.

Since the Y. M. C. A. took charge of the spacious chateau at Dinard and St. Malo, in the Brittany leave area, last August, the baroness has lent a willing hand to the work of entertaining the war-worn doughboys there on their week's leave. Her Friday afternoons at her beautiful chateau near St. Milo are a regular feature of the Red Triangle program of amusement for each group of boys that arrive.

Kisses All of Them.

Imagine her pleasure this winter on receiving a delegation of 150 rosy-cheeked fellows, whose soft, southern drawl announced at once that they were Tennesseans. The boys were members of the Thirtieth division and were having their first rest after seven months on the British front. They were as tickled as children over the party at Basse Motte, especially when the baroness signified her intention to kiss every one of them.

Although seventy-six years of age, she was equal to the occasion, and each boy not only received a kiss but a little card bearing timely greetings and the personal signature of the baroness. Many of the men were from Nashville, so old friends were recalled and personal reminiscences indulged in until train time.

Brittany, once famous for the bounteous repasts served in the fishermen's cottages, as well as in the chateaus, has been hard hit by the war. Like all France, that particular section has been forced to retrench in order that the troops might be well fed. But somehow Baroness de Charette manages to spread a feast for the boys who come to her house each week. She accepts gifts of sugar from the Y. M. C. A. canteen, and with it makes delicious chocolate, old-fashioned tea cakes and pies that have that "homey" taste that the boys like. A meat and jam sandwich, a generous helping of Saratoga chips and a glass of cider usually completes the meal.

In the drawing room is a piano 150 years old. It is not an heirloom that is kept closed by any means, for the baroness invariably finds a soldier among her guests who can play, and the little rosewood "music box," almost toy-like in size, is made to resound to rollicking ragtime. Persian rugs are rolled up and dancing follows.

Interesting Mementoes.

The chateau is a beautiful place situated on a large wooded estate. It has been in the Charette family for ages and the reception rooms contain many interesting mementoes of bygone days. Baron de Charette was a member of an old royalist family bitterly opposed to the separation of church and state, and for ten years was commander of the army that defended Rome. This army was made up of volunteer forces from many countries, whose strong religious faith inspired them to enlist under the banner of the church.

Ten years ago General Charette and the baroness visited America and spent some time in Tennessee. He died six years ago, and since then the baroness has remained at her estate in Brittany. Her sister, Miss Polk of Maury county, Tennessee, lives with her.

The doughboys who visit Basse Motte are a source of never-ending interest to the tiny Marquise Antoinette de Charette, three years old, granddaughter of the baroness. The small daughter of the house is the child of Baron de Charette, who followed the family tradition and married an American. His wife comes of a distinguished Louisiana family. He was seriously wounded while in the French tank service.

Woman Oldest City Voter.

Probably the oldest person to cast a vote in Denver was Mrs. Mary A. Logan of 1725 East Twenty-ninth avenue. Though ninety-one years old, Mrs. Logan is so vitally interested in the affairs of her state and nation that she insisted on being taken to the polling place of her district, precinct B-6, and there, she declared, she voted a straight Republican ticket.

BUILDS GREAT PLANE TO CROSS ATLANTIC

Caproni Has Almost Completed Gigantic Airship to Be Called White Eagle.

Gianni Caproni has almost finished the gigantic airship in which he intends to fly from Italy to America. It is a colossal tri-plane equipped with five motors of 3,000 horse power each, and a large cabin furnished with everything to make the voyage comfortable for several passengers who can be accommodated.

Caproni will call his new plane the White Eagle. The name is linked to a strange prophecy published in Rome, Italy, in 1916, which is attributed to an English monk of the seventeenth century. The prophecy asserted that in the twentieth century there would be a great world war, started by the diabolical cleverness of an emperor of the country of Martin Luther in alliance with another emperor, both bearing on their military uniforms and on their national escutcheons two black eagles. It added that civilization would defeat and throw out the barbarians, whose empires would be divided into 22 states.

It is inferred that the White Eagle is intended to typify the American bird.

The poet W. Lewis has made the event the subject of a poem which has been set to music. The whole was presented with a beautiful allegorical design to President Wilson when he was in Milan. It was as a result of his admiration of the poem and the design so artistically suggestive that Caproni decided on the name of White Eagle for his new and gigantic plane.

It is asserted that the aviators who will make the trip intend to follow the route of Columbus across the sea. They will fly from Italy to Cadiz, thence to the Azores and from Azores to the American coast, alighting in the neighborhood of Washington.

HIGH CHURCH OFFICIAL VISITS UNITED STATES

Archbishop Bonaventura Cerretti, undersecretary of state at the Vatican, who recently delivered Pope Benedict's greeting to Cardinal Gibbons on the celebration of the cardinal's golden jubilee of his episcopate, is the highest official of the Catholic church who has ever visited this country.

COURTESY IS REWARDED

Young Man Gave His Sleeping Car Berth to a Woman.

Herbert Wildermuth, a young man of Tripp, S. D., has discovered that courtesy does not always go unrewarded. He is in the service of his country, with his station at Key West, Fla. On his return to his station from a brief furlough with the home folks in South Dakota, he gave his berth in a sleeping car to a woman, who had two children, and who, because of the crowded condition of the car, could not have secured a berth if it had not been for the generous offer of the young South Dakotan.

Wildermuth slept in the seats. A few days after his return to his barracks at Key West a gentleman called upon him and introduced himself as the husband of the woman he had befriended in the sleeping car. He stated he was glad to meet a soldier who had been so kind to his family. It developed that the man was a resident of Florida and could use a man of Wildermuth's ability and offered him a handsome salary to work in his establishment when he is discharged from the government service.

He Wanted Furlough.

"Charley dead; come at once," telegram to sailor at Great Lakes, Ill., said. Asked furlough. "What relation was Charley?" asked the C. O. "Don't know," boy replied. "Been family name 19 years."

SEEK REVENGE ON GERMAN GUARDS

Tortures in Salt Mines Stir Returned-Captives.

HATRED WILL LAST LONG

Boy of Twenty Relates Story of Wrongs and Sufferings at Hands of Hyphenated Americans Who Had Charge of American Prisoners—Makes Yanks Get Down on His Knees and Beg for Mercy.

Since the boys who have come back from captivity in Germany arrived the tone of our war out at Tottenham, London, has changed, writes Margaret Walter in Chicago Evening Post. Before that it was the rage to say that any boy showed a desire for revenge when he spoke of Fritz or Jerry. Even those who have suffered most in battle have been frank in their admiration of the German as a fighting man. But when the prisoners began to come in and tell their stories last month things changed, and now the boys have conceived a personal hatred for Kultur which will not be cast off with hospital blue and the return of these boys to civil life.

One boy of twenty, who spent the last four months working in the salt mines of Germany for three pfennig (prison money) a day, tells a story of wrongs and sufferings at the hands of a hyphenated American. "This German-American, who happened to be in the fatherland when war broke out, enlisted in the German Red Cross, became a sergeant, and during the last months was put in charge of all American prisoners in his camp.

Tortures of "Kultur."

As our boys were brought in he at first treated them with the greatest consideration and gained their sympathy by telling them all about his life in America and bemoaning the sad fate that destined him to be fighting on the wrong side. In this way he disarmed the Americans, got their confidence, and in some cases, no doubt, obtained information. When, however, he had got all that he could from the boys he would begin a system of torture which in the end either killed them outright or reduced them to a state of abject slavery that has left its marks on every one of those who have survived to come back.

"But I've got his name, you bet, here, written down in my secret book, that they never got away from me, and just as soon as I get back home I'm going to the town where that sergeant's family lives and I'm going to show them what hate is."

The white-faced boy raised himself on his arms and two red spots burned in his cheeks. The other boys drew round against. They had evidently heard the tale before.

Will Make It Hot for Him.

"We're going to join him, too, all us fellows; when we get back home we're going to that town in Iowa where that German Red Cross sergeant came from and make it too hot for him ever to dare to show up there again. It sure isn't going to be a healthy place for him to come back to. We don't want any more of that kind of citizens in America."

The boy on the cot told me that even now he can't sleep at night for thinking of the horrors that took place deep in the bowels of those German salt mines.

"The thirst torture was the worst," he said. "When all the boys are asleep here at night I get to thinking how that sergeant made me go on my knees and beg for water, and then threw it on the ground in front of my face. I see as plain as if it were right here, and the sick boy bent double, shoved along in the working gang and never allowed to fall back till they dropped in their tracks, all beaten up with rifle butts."

"But I've no complaint of the fare we had; miserable as it was, I believed it was as good as some of the Germans had themselves. The little children of the poorest class used to hang round the barbed wire inclosure begging for scraps. We used to throw things over to them, especially the British Tommies, when they got their Red Cross prisoners' packages. It's no use—us men couldn't bear to see little children starving, no matter whose children they were."

PUT HER FOOT IN IT

Firemen Release Little Girl From Frozen Milk Can.

The Arlington, Mass., fire department, which has been called out for practically everything under the sun, including fires, had the surprise of its life the other day when it was summoned to extricate a girl's foot from a frozen milk can. M. Clare Whitaker, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Whitaker, discovered a large milk can frozen in the ground. Childlike she put her foot in the can. Then, exercising the privilege of her sex, she changed her mind, and decided to take her foot out. She found it wouldn't come, and began to scream. Neighbors, unable to help her, called the police.

The police, finding themselves baffled, called the fire department. The five ladders dug the can out of the frozen ground with pickaxes, and then cut the can away from the child's foot.

BRITAIN MAY ASK AID IN BIG NAVY POLICY

Each of the Big Dominions Would be Urged Greatly to Augment Their Squadrons.

WOULD BE FORMIDABLE UNIT

(By United Press.)

London, Feb. 18. (By Mail).—Development of vast separate naval squadrons by British colonies is being discussed in naval circles here?

Each of the big dominions, India, Australia and Canada would be urged to augment greatly their squadrons, which would become formidable units of the grand fleet in wartime.

The proposal is receiving much encouragement from shipper, who predict a tremendously increased trade with the far eastern territories. The flag, they argue, should follow trade. Without its potential protection trade must be restricted, it is urged.

Point is given to the colonial navies' proposal by the advancement of S. P. Sinha, a native Indian, to a peerage and a place in the government as undersecretary of the Indian office. This is the first time a native Indian has been given a seat in the government of the United Kingdom.

The use of Indian troops who fought shoulder to shoulder with Britons in the war is regarded as another indication the proposal is receiving attention. Native Indians, it is believed, within a few years will be serving on many ships of the navy.

Shelbyville, Ind., Mar. 13.—Damage of about $500 was caused here yesterday when a runaway horse hitched to an American Railway Express wagon speeded down streets, overturned signs, knocked down a team of horses and broke the plate glass front of the Monfort grocery store, where it was stopped by falling down. The horse was not injured.

TENNIS COURT NONESSENTIAL AND DOES GARDEN DUTY

More than one tennis court was ruled "nonesential" last year and was made into a food garden.

The picture shows one in Washington, D. C., that gave as much exercise to the boys who worked it as tennis would have given, and it produced many a square meal.

Tennis-court soil often is packed and requires considerable work to make it suitable for cultivation. Oftentimes, too, fertilizer is needed, but these gardens present object lessons in food production right out in the open where everybody can see them, and the wire screens keep dogs away.

THRIFT SCHOOL PLAN OUTLINED BY EXPERT

Dr. Shailer Mathews Explains Scope and Purpose of Great U. S. Educational Movement for Saving.

By DR. SHAILER MATHEWS.
[Chairman of W. S. S. Educational Committee for Seventh District and Vice Director for Illinois.]

Thrift will be taught in the schools of the states constituting the Seventh federal reserve district.

The children of Iowa will help prepare the Little Lessons in Thrift which are being written by Prof. Macy Campbell of the Iowa State Teachers' college, under the general direction of an educational committee of the district. Besides the chairman the educational committee consists of W. E. Larson, department of public instruction, Wisconsin; J. V. McNally, Detroit public schools, Michigan; and Macy Campbell, Iowa State Teachers' college.

The Little Lessons in Thrift appear fortnightly on printed sheets. The lessons are prepared for the different grades in the schools. They are illustrated and interesting. They teach savings as a phase of good citizenship, give problems of arithmetic in terms of thrift stamps, chewing gum, candy and other things a child buys.

It is a new field which is thus being opened up and the war savings organization is rendering a great service to the rising generation. Nor is it all mere theory. The teaching of the principles of thrift is combined with a sort of manual training in thrift, through the sale of War Savings Stamps in schools.

Along with these Little Lessons in Thrift the educational committee furnishes the schools with pupils' thrift cards, on which the teacher keeps an account of the amount, however small, which the pupil brings to her for the purpose of buying stamps. This practice itself becomes educational, because the pupil gets introduced to simple bookkeeping and banking.

These plans have received the heartiest co-operation of the school administration in the various states and cities. The parochial and private schools also are co-operating in the use of the material and plans prepared by the committee.

The young men and women of the next generation will have a higher respect for thrift and a better understanding as to how to spend their money, for they will learn even in the primary grades that thrift is not miserliness but a way of spending money so as to make it for them.

FRENCH ARMY NOT HARSH TO GERMANS

There is no Friction Between the Germans and the French in Occupied Territory.

FRENCH LAWS ARE STRICT.

The More Respect the Germans Show for the Laws the Fewer are the Restrictions.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Mayence, Feb. 11. (By Mail).—There is no friction between the Germans and the French in the occupied enemy territory. This is the largest city the French army occupies, and, with the exception of a hard look or two, the Germans show no resentment here.

The French are strict, but they do not rub in the fact that they are conquerors. Swanking with them is unknown, while the more respect the Germans show for the law the fewer are the restrictions.

"It is like this," explained Devile, commandant at Kaiserslautern. "We early came to the conclusion that if we posted a notice containing prohibitions implicit obedience to the edict must be demanded. The Germans have been ruled by the iron hand so long that they regard as an exhibition of weakness any permission to sidestep a rule. Then, too, it was necessary to be strict, not only to protect the people and the army, but to convince the Germans that they are not allowing us to stay here merely on sufferance because they had decided not to wage war any longer, (as some of them believe) but that they really are a conquered people. If we are not strict and severe they regard us as soft. Our only thought, however, is to rule justly, and if inhabitants behave themselves their privileges are extended."

The major then gave some illustrations.

At the beginning of the French occupation all telephoning was prohibited, except for certain administration or industrial necessities, the reason being that the phone was a convenient way to communicate information. Recently, this ruling has been modified to authorize use of the telephone within limits of certain cities.

At the beginning of the occupation there was the strictest censorship over letters, which has been much liberalized. Then, too there have been changes in what the people regard as the most irksome of all regulations, the "ringing of the curfew" at 8 o'clock at night. In some places the French have added a couple of hours so that the populace can visit the opera, concerts, theatre and movies.

Strict censorship of the press continues and nothing can be published which reflects upon or criticizes the French army, government or any of the allies. Public meetings cannot be held without authorization from the commandant, the single exception being church services. No watch is kept on the clergy. French army officers and soldiers have considerably surprised the Germans by going to church, proving to them that they are not irreligious. In Kaiserslautern the townspeople are growing familiar with the spectacle of the curé's welcoming General Fayolle at the door of the church every Sunday morning.

German policemen continue to perform their duties under the new regime, costumes being the same, but wearing a brassard about the arm. An exception has been made of some of the higher police officials, however, who were found impregnated by Kaiserism. They were given the sac, by the French. German officials cannot sign decrees. If new regulations are necessary they must be approved by the French commandant.

Rheumatic Agony Piteous and Painful Now Easily Ended

James H. Allen of Rochester, Once a Cripple, Now Strong and Robust, Gives Secret to Sufferers

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cursed rheumatism or have only occasional twinges. I know that Allenhu, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints.

I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenhu made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

I know because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenhu and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease.

No matter how severe your case, I urge you to put your faith in the prescription that it took me years to perfect—a prescription that made a new man of me after doctors tried and failed.

Allenhu is no leg. It gets right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

Through the columns of this newspaper, I authorize every druggist to return your money if Allenhu doesn't rid you of rheumatism. (Adv.)

Janesville Walking Plow

What Is Walking-Plow Satisfaction?

THE handles must be just the right height and swing over far enough in the furrow to allow me to walk squarely between them.

"The plow must run reasonably well without too much draft either to the land or to the furrow.

"The hitch must be such as to allow the tugs to be reasonably long to give the plow plenty of freedom to find itself in the furrow at the depth I wish to plow.

All This You Get in Janesville S. & S.

"This freedom in the furrow allows the plow a certain amount of oscillation as it slices the furrow and takes the 'pinch' away from the cutting edge of the share. This lightens the draft and saves me time.

"The quality of the work must be regular and the furrow left in as uniform condition as the character of the soil will permit. This reduces the cost of working it down into a seed bed.

"The long, smooth, easy roll of the furrow over the perfect scouring share and moldboard, and the plow guided by a slight pressure of either hand now and then eases the day's labor for man and team and insures the best work."—A Personal Testimonial. It will do as well for you. Let us prove it.

No trouble is experienced with mayors of cities of less than 25,000 where the people elect these functionaries, but not so much can be said regarding burgomasters in the larger cities, as the French have often found them still playing the game of imperial politics.

Germans are paying close attention to the work of the French commissions working in conjunction with the army.

When the French came they announced they would continue existing functionaries and administration as far as possible, subject to the higher authority of the army commandant. The French brought in the commissions, which are composed of men learned in finance, industry, law, history and engineering. Each army of occupation has a commission, while there are commissions of lesser importance in many other places.

PHONE COMPANIES ARE MAKING BIG EFFORT

Want Public Service Commission to Authorize Installation and Removal Charges

GRANTED BY FEDERAL GOVT.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13.—Efforts are being made by telephone companies to procure authorization from the public service commission to make installation and removal charges such as were granted by the federal government. The federal ruling, however, has been held up by an injunction. Telephone company representatives probably will meet with members of the commission next week to determine what action may be taken to obtain such authorization.

Arrangements have yet been made by the companies in the state to refund to patrons the difference between the regularly authorized intrastate rate and the higher rates levied under orders issued by Postmaster-General Burleson, which were charged before the injunction was granted.

Telephone companies in Indiana have collected about $115,000 which will have to be refunded under the ruling, according to estimates of members of the commission. However, representatives of the companies contend that the injunction has not been made permanent yet and that an appeal may be taken if the final decision of the court is unfavorable. For this reason, they contend, making refunds now might result in great confusion.

PROMINENT DOCTORS EXCITED AND AMAZED

They Are Worked Up Over The Action of Phosphated Iron Making The Weak Strong

Victims of weak nerves and run down systems due to lack of pure blood will be glad to know that there is, according to the best physicians a reliable remedy for them.

Many who were steadily going down hill to permanent illness and nervous breakdown have regained perfect health by taking Phosphated Iron, the new blood and nerve food.

One elderly woman said, "I was all in, looked and felt like the last run of shad, was clear discouraged without ambition or appetite. Now look at me. I have the good health and bubbling spirits of a girl of eighteen, eat and sleep well. It made a new man of my husband too. And though we are well along in years we both face the future with confidence, knowing that as long as our blood is charged with good health-giving Iron and Phosphates we are safe."

One bookkeeper who used it says: "If ever a man had a case of nerves it was me. I could not sleep at night, the least sound made me jump, appetite gone, everything was up hill work and I felt myself slipping every day. My doctor said: 'Try Phosphated Iron, it is the exact remedy you require.' The first week I improved; my nerves steadied down so that I slept, my appetite and digestion improved, and it seemed to me that I could almost feel the Phosphates and Iron feeding my weak watery blood and tired nerves. I now weigh 25 lbs. more than I ever did, and much stronger."

A prominent physician to whom the above statements were submitted said: "Yes, Phosphated Iron is easily the most wonderful iron prescription yet discovered. Its ingredients are well known to all blood and nerve specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice and cured many patients where other physicians had failed. I can highly recommend it for all cases of weak nerves and poor blood, as well as general loss of tone, with absence of appetite. It seldom fails me in this class of cases."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

FRENCH CHILDREN DO LOVE AMERICA

Little Tots of France are Taught That America is the Saviour of Their Homes.

REASON FOR RECEPTION.

Extended to the President While he Journeys Through the French Towns and Cities.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 18. (By Mail.)—What were the reasons for the enthusiastic reception of President Wilson at Paris?

This was the subject of compositions in practically every school in France after the American President's arrival here. Here is a typical development of the theme, written by little Charlotte Girod, aged 10, of l'Institute l'Hammond in the shadow of the Sorbonne:

"Paris prepared the enthusiastic celebration of President Wilson's arrival because he came to our aid, and caused to be raised an army of 3,000,000 men who saved France and the world. The Americans are brave soldiers who let nothing discourage them. Parisian prove their gratitude for what America had done by receiving President Wilson with acclamation."

Here is what Phyllis Jacqueline, aged 8 wrote:

"Paris loved President Wilson because he came to the aid of France at the moment the Germans were attacking the hardest. And make the Germans didn't feel themselves ill at ease then! But the Americans and the French did not occupy their time thinking about that. Not at all! And the wicked Germans died—and died—and died!"

"And that's why little French children love President Wilson lots and lots—and America—and her armies!"

Thus are the French teaching gratitude towards America.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT WILL HELP RUSHVILLE

"I hated cooking because whatever I ate gave me sour stomach and a bloated feeling. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I tried simple buckthorn bark, glycerine etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka." Because it flushes the ENTIRE bowel tract completely Adler-i-ka relieves ANY CASE sour stomach, gas or constipation and prevents appendicitis. The INSTANT action is surprising. F. E. ## KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. In avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1896 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.
